

CPI INTERIORS

Award-winning interior design firm CPI Interiors has served more than 7,000 homeowners in the Greater Ottawa Area since its inception in 1998. This past July, original owners Jerome and Catherine Pulcine passed the torch to long-time team members Natalie Cox and Megan Patterson, with Catherine remaining onboard as a senior designer. As the new year approaches, CPI Interiors will continue offering a great customer experience, while also growing its team to include new talent. As the recipient of many prestigious awards including the 2022 Quality Business Awards for Best Interior Designer in Ottawa, CPI Interiors is making strides in the Ottawa design industry.

Megan Patterson, Natalie Cox

PHOTOS: ANNEMARIE GRUDÉN

PERSONAL APPROACH

What sets CPI Interiors apart is their commitment to crafting personalized design solutions uniquely tailored to each client. They make it convenient by coming to you, asking essential questions to understand your style and functional needs. Conveniently, all of this happens within the comfort of your home. "Every day is different and we get to solve problems and make a difference in people's lives," says Natalie.

TRENDING

Current industry trends are pointing to deep, rich colours and warmer neutrals. Custom drapery is making a comeback as a stylistic way to add warmth and texture to open-concept spaces. More and more individuals are seeking sustainable furniture options, showcasing a growing interest in investing in enduring, timeless pieces.

FLOWERS TALK TIVOLI

Meet Elizabeth Young, the owner and florist behind Flowers Talk Tivoli, a Wellington Village flower shop since 2004. With a true love for the job, Elizabeth says the favourite part of her work is, "the life events that we get to be a part of. From flowers for the first date, to wedding flowers, and flowers for a baby shower, anniversary flowers... and celebrations of life."

Elizabeth Young

PHOTOS: ANNEMARIE GRUDÉN

MORE THAN FLOWERS

Stopping in, clients can browse not only flowers, but a wide selection of home goods like pots, baskets, candles, blankets and more. The shop offers group workshops (online and in-person), as well as a variety of floral subscriptions. Flowers Talk Tivoli also sells a variety of indoor house plants with knowledgeable staff available to help customers choose the perfect plant for their space.

IN VOGUE

Dried flowers are still a popular purchase because of the longevity they allow. For fresh bouquets, the trends are to incorporate a lot of greenery and natural elements. "Wood and metal are still popular to add some rustic warmth to holiday florals," says Elizabeth.

Continued on page 64